The Final Touch by Mendi's Guide for Stunning Beauty on Your Wedding Day!!

1. Mendi is an International Makeup Artist and photographer. Mendi uses her camera as a tool to see exactly how you look as she is doing your makeup. You can look right at that moment to know how you will look in the camera on your wedding day. Mendi also prints an 8 x 10 photo of you to keep when you one of her clients. Mendi will also draw you a map with the makeup we choose to use on you for an additional fee. When you receive your drawing, you should frame it and Mendi will make you a copy to shop for products with. The original signed chart is worth $500.00 at this time.

2. Book your appointment no less than three months in advance. This gives Mendi enough time to work on your skin, so it will be absolute perfection on your wedding day. Make sure to bring photos of examples of how you would like your hair to look. The Final Touch By Mendi has the most amazing team of professionals from all over the country that work with Mendi exclusively.

3. Avoid making any drastic changes right before your wedding. Meaning.... changing your hair color or cut, tanning in a tanning bed, believe me, cancer is no fun. I had my upper lip cut off from being in the sun and I have always used sun block. If you do want some color for you wedding day, use a great self-tanning product that will not make you smell bad or turn orange. Use surgical gloves to apply it.

Chanel makes a great self-tanner with no smell. If you're going to get your face waxed, do it at least one week before your wedding. Makeup will not adhere to your face right after waxing.

4. You should look like you, just more enhanced. Your husband-to-be wants to marry you, not some overly made-up person he does not recognize.

5. Treat your husband-to-be with some pampering just for him. The Final Touch By Mendi will cut his hair, wax his brows, nose hair, and ears. Even a straight razor shave if he so desires.

6. Remember, this is the one time in your life you want to look your most beautiful and take your soon to be husbands breath away as you enter the room. Avoid cutting a "Beauty Team" from your budget and hire a "Professional Team" to do your makeup and hair that will come to you on your special day. This should be one of the top things on your Budget List. Have your bridesmaids and mothers done also. Mix-matched makeup looks terrible in photographs. Your photographs of your wedding day are going to be the most Precious Memories of your life and you want to make sure they are stunning! Your photographer will thank you when our team gets you ready. They will not have to Photoshop you because Mendi used her camera during your preparation, so you know you will look like perfection through their lens.

7. You Get What You Pay For! Do not cheat yourself out of getting the best Makeup and Hair team you can find. Keep enough in your budget to cover this cost. You will regret it if you don't. When you see your photographs, which are a large part of your Budget and your Memories for the rest of your life... you want to look at them and know you looked your very best!

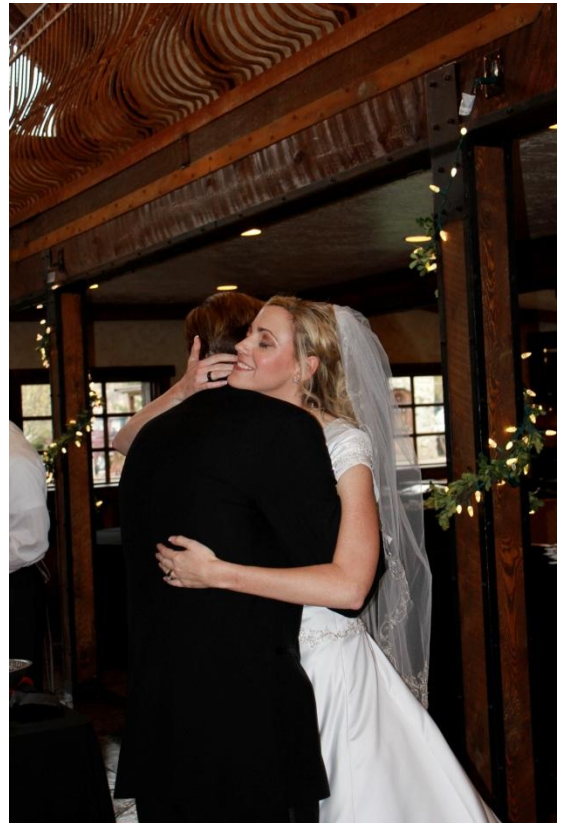

8. Always stay in touch with the companies that are working with you on your wedding. If you share your information with company's you hire, it will be easier to coordinate our schedules; so all aspects of your wedding can run smoothly. Talk to them, texting does not take the place of a real conversation. You should have a personal relationship with the people you hire. They will care a lot more about what they are doing for you, and there will be no confusion.

9. Give gratuities for outstanding performance from a company. Hopefully you would never forget to leave a tip if you had a wonderful experience at a salon...so, please remember to always tip for great service. Remember, these people went out of their way and cared enough to make you look stunning for the most important day of your life. (Include gratuities into your budget)

10. Bring your credit card or checkbook to the show. Now is the time to get the current pricing. (Prices will change after the La Caille show.)
